Onward

Press on and on, unfaltering youth,
Stop not in pain or sorrow,
But strive with firm, undying faith
To strengthen each tomorrow.

Don't yield an inch; halt every foe;
Be firm and never bending;
Look ever onward, never back;
Have courage to the ending.

Lift high your torch to seek the truth,
Though wealth and fame invite you,
And as you walk the way of Right,
The light of faith will guide you.

Disparage not; forgive, forget
Though life prove contradictory;
Forever lift your soul toward Light,
And win life's shining victory.

—MARY LOU SHIKRALLAH

Toast to Our Faculty

A toast to you our teachers,
For you deserve it so;
Through these four years you've guided us,
Till now when we must go.

At parting time we realize
How patient you have been
In teaching us to meet the tasks
Of life, and proudly win.

You loaded us with homework;
We thought it so unfair;
But all along we really knew,
Those tasks we had to bear.

And as the door is closing,
High school becomes a memory;
We'll always miss the fun we've had,
But most of all, our faculty.

—JOSEPHINE F. GENOVESE

1954 Football Team

Back row: Earl McGhee, John Sweeney, Alan McLennan, Bernard O'Neil, William Perry, Joseph Bateman, Richard Gazda, Ralph Forgione, Donald Scott, Robert Diodati, Gerald Miele, Ronald Boutin

The 1954 football season is now only a memory. Coach Doherty's second year brought more than one hundred candidates to the practice field. Seven out of the starting eleven players from last year's team were returning, and high hopes for a successful season were entertained. It was not too difficult to fill the other four positions, but Coach Doherty's main concern was the finding of substitutes, which is a vital part of a team.

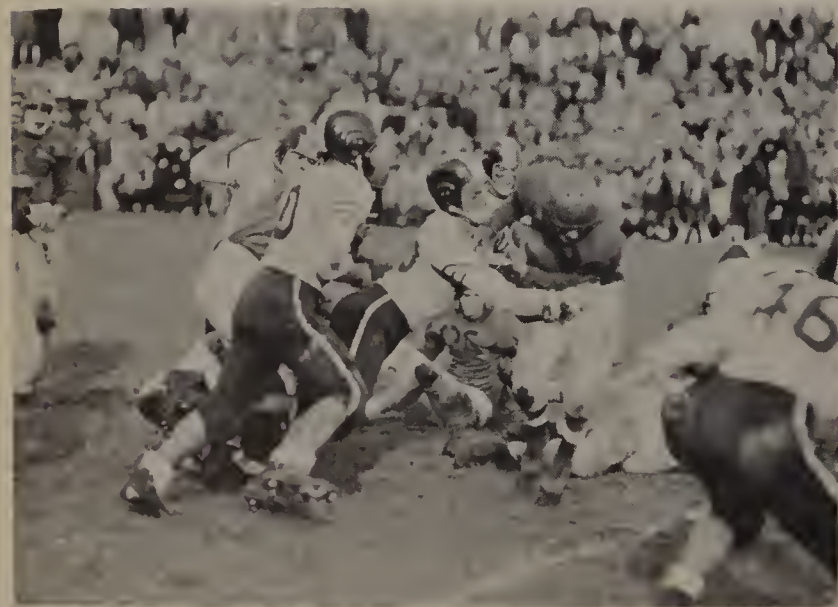

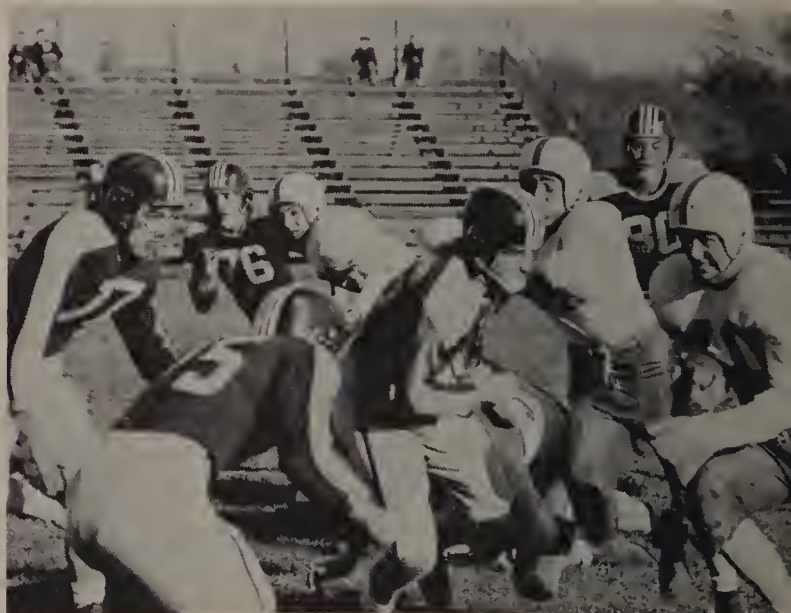

The returning players from last year's team were Bob Souma, l.t., Norm Salem, l.g., Dom Mazzocco, r.g., Bill Rossi, r.t., Jack McCarthy, q.b., George Maroun, l.h.b., and Bob LeFebre, f.b. The boys that filled the other positions were Tony Riccio, c., Jack Halloran, r.e., Eddie Caston, l.e., and Bill Hickey, r.h.b.

Our record was fairly good; we lost four games, but won five. Our greatest victory of the year came when we defeated our intra-city rival Central Catholic 34-0, breaking the old scoring record which they held previously. Other victories were Manchester 26-7, Peabody 26-25, Revere 25-12, and Lynn Classical 6-0. The games in which the Lancers went down fighting in a losing cause were Lynn English 20-13, Somerville 32-19, Haverhill 13-6, and Lowell 19-7, the game in which we came out on top of everything except the final score.

The outstanding players on defense were Bob Souma, Bill Rossi, Dom Mazzocco, Tony Riccio and Norm Salem. The offense was headed by Jack McCarthy, George Maroun, Bill Hickey, Bob LeFebre and our two excellent down-field blockers, Jack Halloran and Eddie Caston. We mustn't forget our strong bench, a few of whom were Sam Moschetto, Larry Pettoruto, Bob Benoit and Tom Laycock who were always ready when called on. A personal salute must be given to Bob Souma, All-Scholastic Player of 1954. As ten out of the eleven starters are seniors, we wish Captain-elect George Maroun the best of luck in 1955.

Class History

I wonder how many of us, the class of 1955, can remember that long awaited morn back in September, 1951 that heralded the beginning of our freshman year. True, many of us had trouble in locating our prospective classrooms; however our one claim to fame was that we did not fall for the proverbial joke of taking the elevator supposedly located near room 2. Although we were teased and looked down upon by the upper classmen, we felt that we had attained a great distinction in becoming high school students. One sad occasion, in the glory of our freshman year, was the death of Miss Margaret Burns.

We elected as our freshman class officers, Billy Perry president, Frank Kennedy vice-president and Wally Clifton secretary-treasurer. Those who attended will certainly remember the Freshman Frolics, which was initiated by our class. In spite of homework, our year was made enjoyable by new acquaintances, dances and sports events.

During our sophomore year we were visited by former President Truman and candidate for the Republican Party Dwight D. Eisenhower, who came to speak on the common. The entire student body went to hear their speeches. Many a student spent some time trying to reason out the dark secrets of Algebra and Plane Geometry taught by Miss Lord. Who can forget that first year of typing and shorthand? This year was said to be designed to either make us or break us. For our class officers we elected George Maroun president, Billy Perry vice-president and Marion Sunderland secretary-treasurer. The inter-club Xmas party, many dances and the Centennial of the city, in which most of us took part in some way or another, are all memories of our sophomore year. Before we knew it the year had drawn to a close and we were juniors.

Juniors! Upperclassmen! (Big wheels at last). For our class officers the big three comprised the following: Bob LeFebre president, Eddie Caston vice-president and Andi Blamire secretary-treasurer. A sad note to mar the festivities was the untimely death of the popular and well-liked gym instructor, Mr. William Higgins.

We classmates, all decked out in our Sunday best, put forward to attend our first Career Day. The highlights of the year were the Junior-Senior prom, the poodle cut, knee socks, and white bucks. In our anticipation to become seniors, we scarcely realized that the year had passed, and our ambitions were becoming a reality.

Our senior year seemed to fly by with the assistance of hurricanes Carol and Edna. The happiest feature of these catastrophes was the generosity of Mr. Sullivan, when he disregarded the homework, due to the power failure. The familiar faces of six of our teachers were missing from the school corridors because of their retirement. They were Miss Mank, Mr. Regan and Mr. Leo Higgins, who had been teachers for forty years, and Mr. Lynch, Mr. Beaulieu and Mr. Trumbull, who were with us for thirty years. We were all saddened by the death of Mr. Sault, our former music supervisor, who had retired two years before. Many of us were faced more clearly with the problems of the future. Sixteen of our classmates rushed to meet the future by joining the Armed Forces after the mid-year. Class officers for our senior year were: president Eddie Caston, vice-president Bob LeFebre and secretary-treasurer Norm Salem. Here I might add that the political ability of the football team was certainly well represented. Memories of our senior year were Talent Night, Career Day, the newly formed Biology Club and the Prom. Last but not least we had the new look in the gym shower rooms.

I have omitted many events that occurred during our four years, but I know that they haven't been forgotten. More important than our social events in the history of our class is the assistance we received from the teachers and the understanding shown by Mr. Lawlor. In closing I think I should mention the interest in our class shown by Mr. Casey, Mr. Moynihan and Mr. Lyons in the publication of our yearbook and school paper. To end the history of the class of 1955, I want to wish all my classmates the best of health and happiness in whatever fortune brings to them, and as a last reminder to all, remember the class motto, "Education is the Best Road to Success!"

ELAINE M. LAWN

TOAST TO THE GIRLS

*Rise, men of Fifty-Five, to drink a toast
To our fair partners of the past four years;
Their brains and beauty are our proudest boast;
Salute each lass as final parting nears.*

*We spurred our efforts on the field of play,
To win the gracious favor of their smiles;
In social functions, they were bright and gay,
And we stout males fell fondly for their wiles.*

*Their welcome presence eased the weary grind
In search of learning in these hallowed halls;
Their countless talents, we recall to mind,
To praise before the final curtain falls.*

*The hour has come to go our diverse ways;
We leave to keep a rendezvous with Fate;
Though fortune lead us far in future days,
Let's pay the girls due tribute on this date.*

— ANTHONY COCO

Toast to the Boys

Let us pay tribute to the boys
Departing in the Class of Nineteen Fifty-Five,
The halfbacks, the tackles, and the ends
Cutting up the turf at the Stadium;
The corner-men and back-court men
Bouncing a basketball on the maple gym floor;
The pitchers and catchers, the batters and fielders
Displaying their skill at O'Sullivan Park;
The camera fans snapping photos of interest,
Covering a range of important local happenings;
The singers, though no Fishers or Comos
Warbling their songs in the music room;
Speakers trying to remember the next line of Shakespeare;
Mathematicians, chemists, woodworkers, and electricians
Leaving behind unsolved propositions, lab experiments,
Unfinished tables, and electrical developments.

Some of our boys have already left us
To follow the flag with true devotion;
Never has a better group of young Americans
Gone forward to fight for their honor and loved-ones.
In future year, when a doctor is needed,
Or a fireman or a lawyer must fill the gap,
One of the fellows from '55 will emerge
To win acclaim in his chosen field of endeavor.
Now that the time has come for the curtain to fall
On our happy high school years,
Let us remember that this festive occasion
Would not be quite so bright without the boys.

—JOAN MARY WILKIE

Class Prophecy

CLASS PROPHECY —

"Round and round she goes; where she stops, nobody knows." The wheel of fortune is spinning out the fate of the members of the Class of 1955, so away we go in our streamlined super-jet rocket to read our future in the heavens. Turning off the Milky Way, we slide along the handle of the Big Dipper to the North Star. Here our journey ends. Setting down our space transport on a convenient meteor, we fall into a trance in a bed of dreams. Lo and behold! A shower of shooting stars whiz by. You guessed it. On each is the name of a member of L.H.S.1955 with an inscription that reveals things to come:

President EDDIE CASTON: Will buy controlling interest in the John Robert Powers Model Agency in New York.
